INVITES FOLK TO SPEAK

AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

Urges the Circuit Attorney to Give Favorable Answer.

Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk will reply to-day to the letter received from former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long, yesterday, in which he was invited to deliver the oration at the commencement day exercises of Harvard Univer

Mr. Folk will be unable to give a posi tive answer to the invitation, but it is be-tive answer to the invitation, but it is believed that he will ultimately accept it.

Mr. Long is chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the commencement day exercises. In his letter he states that he believes that the event will be one of interest to Mr. Folk. He assures Mr. Folk that it has long been a custom at Harvard to have distinguished orators on commencement day.

Mr. Long expressed for himself and the committee appreciation of the good services rendered by the St. Louis Circuit Attorney and ends with the hope that Mr.
Folk will be able to accept the invitation.

Circuit Attorney Folk within the last month has received forty invitations to deliver orations at commencement day exercises of colleges and universities next year, but thus far has found it necessary to decline, not being able to tell so far ahead whether his official dutles will permit him to leave St. Louis for any length of time.

There were several members of the last Legislature before the jury to-day to testify. One of the witnesses is reported to have been asked to-day if he knew anything about the alum bill and to have replied that he did not. His testimony is said to have been about as follows: "I never read a bill during the entire time I was here," he said. "How did you know how to vote on matters of legislation?-" was asked.

"I always voted with the boys who were the good fellows," said he.

"But who were the good fellows?"
"Why, the boys who bought the drinks." Many of the witnesses to-day showed their displeasure in rather strong language in being brought back here to testify, asserting that they knew nothing of money being used in the Legislature, and appeared indignant that they should be ssked about the matter. One witness stated that he did not tell all to the jury. He was too mad to give much information of or jewelry, money and one of his medals were to-day dismissed.

Miss Margaret Hobson, his sister, had reported their loss. Miss Hobson seemed to be somewhat indefinite about the disappearance of the valuables when she testified to-day, and the Judge advised that she drop the case, as he believed there was no warrant for further action. The summonses were then dismissed.

Miss Hobson later was served with papers by attorneys for her negro maid, Lixzie Britt, in a $10,000 damage suit. The papers charge false arrest and imprisonment and malicious persecution. In an affidavit the maid swore that on the evening of November 5, while leaving the sanitarium, she was accosted by a man and woman detective, employed by Captain Hobson. She further averred that she was taken back to the sanitarium and searched and kept there a prisoner all night.

NATIVE CATTLE-Beef Steers A fairly good supply of native cattle was received during the day, which was but a few hundred head lighter than the corresponding day last week, but the three days supply snows a marked decrease compared with the same peried of the past two weeks. The three days supply this week is around 5,000 head, against 8,000 last week and 10,000 the week before. A fair portion of the arrivals were in the beef class, but only a amail share were received early, and three of common, half-fat to pretty good grades. There were considerable to come later during the day.

On good fleshed offerings the trade ruled steady to strong, but on medium and the plainer grades the market was slow and duli.

HORSES—All things put together, the horse market is not ruiling much different from last week. Some of the consignors claim that their horses are making more satisfactory returns, but in the majority of instances there is no difference. At any rate, trade is on a much more antisfactory level than a couple of weeks ago, and appears to be going to maintain a better condition from now on: at least, it looks as though the winter trade has about opened up and dispelled the results of the sold of the offerings actively, and formulad be brisk, lively market. Most of the formulad better good Dastern buyers an attendance was a large of the sold of the offerings actively, and formulad be brisk, lively market. Most of the formulad be brisk, lively market, Most of the formulad by the sold of the offerings actively, and formulad be brisk, lively market, Most of the formulad by the sold of the offerings actively, and formulad be brisk, lively market, Most of the formulad by the sold of the offerings actively, and formulad by brisk, lively market, Most of the formulad by the sold of the offerings actively, and formulad by brisk, lively market, Most of the formulad was from the South, but there were several good Eastern buyers also on hand, who bought with considerable activity, indicating that the Eastern trade has shaken of some of its dullness. Smooth, fat, shapely Southern horses were favorite sellers, in fact, they experienced the best demand.

WILL OF DR. SIMON POLLAK. Left Painting to Mullanphy Hospital as Remembrance. The will of Doctor Simon Pollak was filed for probate yesterday. It was exe-cuted August 27, 1874. He bequeathed his estate to his wife, Sallie, excepting a painting representing the marriage of St. Catharine of Alexandria, which he left to the Sisters of Charity in charge of the Mullanphy Hos-

The hospital is mentioned in the will as the New St. Louis Hospital, on Montgomery street near Grand avenue. The will recites that the painting is bequeathed as a remembrance of his pleas-ant connection with the hospital.

The will also recites that he has two sons, Samuel Perry Pollak and Charles Pope Pollak. His wife is named executrix without bond. The will was witcutrix without bond. The will was witnessed by C. D. and Austin Drake, both of whom are dead.

Probate Judge Crews granted to the widow a "denial of letters," as the estate does not amount to more than her allowance. It consists of a hible and other books valued at $5, some household goods, one share of stock in the St. Louis Cemetery Association and a life insurance policy of $1,389.

Light Company Directors Meet. The directors of the Union Electric Light and Power Company held their monthly meeting yesterday morning and the directors of the Laclede Gas Light Company met in the atternoon. C. W. Wetmore, John Beggs and W. F. White, officials of the North American Company, which holds a large interest in both the Union and Laclede companies, attended both meetings. Breckinridge Jones said that only business of a routine nature was transacted at both meetings.
